Wondrous wolves wandered worldwide, working with worthy woodworkers, wool-spinners, wordsmiths, worshippers, and watchmakers. Wonderful women and wise workers wore woollen waistcoats while walking along winding woodlands. Warm-hearted wanderers welcomed worried wayfarers with wholesome words, wondrous workmanship, and world-class wisdom. Wealthy workshop owners witnessed workers weaving wool, welding wrought-iron, and writing worthwhile works. Word-loving writers worked without worry, wording well-written works with wit and wonder. Worldwide, the wondrous workforce won widespread worship for their work ethic, workability, and willingness. Throughout the week, workers woke with willpower, worked with wholeheartedness, and wound up with well-earned worthiness and worldly wisdom.